Customs Duties

SCHEDULE I.

Govt. Notice No. 21 of 1929

(Italics denote Amendments, Alterations and Additions.)

A.—IMPORTS.

1. There shall be levied and collected upon goods imported into the Protectorate the several duties set forth in Tables I, II, III, IV and V hereto.

2. The value of goods upon which duty is leviable ad valorem shall be the value of the goods at the place where such goods are purchased as shown on the genuine invoice produced to and accepted by the Comptroller of Customs, together with any purchasing commissions on such goods and all charges on such goods up to the port or place from which they are shipped to the Protectorate. Such invoice shall be the genuine invoice of the manufacturer or supplier, as the case may be, from or through whom the goods are purchased, and shall be retained by the Comptroller of Customs.

The Comptroller of Customs may allow trade discounts recognized in the particular trade and shown on the invoice to be deducted from the value for duty, but no further deduction may be allowed on account of packing or of any cash or special or sample discount or of any arrangements concerning the export or the exclusive right of sale of the goods or any consideration by which a reduction in value results.

Class.	Specification of Taxes, etc.	Rate.	Authority.
Customs Duties	IMPORTS—(continued).		Govt. Notice No. 21 of 1929

All invoices for imported goods manufactured in a foreign country and purchased in their country of origin shall indicate the value of such goods as expressed in the currency of that country, and also the value of the same as expressed in British currency, the latter value being computed at the rate of exchange for the time being current between the two currencies at the date of purchase, and such rate of exchange shall be clearly stated on the invoice.

If the Comptroller of Customs is of opinion that the invoice value of any imported goods is by reason of depreciation in the currency of the country of origin below the natural value of such goods, he may thereupon fix such value as he shall consider fair for the purpose of assessment of duty.

Without prejudice to any right of final appeal contained in section 15 of the Customs Ordinance, 1906, the Comptroller of Customs shall decide any dispute which may arise as to the rate of duty to be assessed or dues to be charged on a particular article imported or exported, whether specifically mentioned or not in these schedules.

3. No import duty shall be levied or collected upon the goods set forth in Table VI hereto.

4. Where the import duty amounts to less than 8d., a sum of 8d. shall be charged, and where such duty exceeds 8d. or any multiple thereof an additional 8d. shall be charged, in lieu of such excess; provided that in the case of goods imported by post the minimum duty shall be 8d. and thereafter duty shall be calculated to the penny next above.

5. A rebate of the full import duty on all goods lawfully re-imported into the Protectorate shall be allowed upon the following conditions:—

(1) That a certificate containing a full description of the articles to be re-imported be obtained from a Customs Officer at the time of exportation, which certificate must be produced on re-importation.

(2) That the articles re-imported are those actually described in the certificate and are re-imported within twelve months from the date of exportation.

6. A drawback of the full import duty paid on all goods other than perishables lawfully imported into the Protectorate shall be allowed if such goods are exported by the importer hereof within twelve months of the first entry of such goods.

7. A drawback of the full import duty paid on goods used in the construction or repair of railway rolling-stock shall be allowed on proof being given to the Comptroller of Customs that the goods have been so used.

This may be prepaid by the person at whose instance the original service is undertaken. Messengers may be kept waiting for a reply for one hour. If detained longer a charge of 3d. per hour is made. Persons desiring to send several packets for delivery to different addresses by the same messenger may do so if they choose to risk the chances of error and confusion by the native carriers. In no case, however, will a messenger be despatched with a greater weight than 20 lbs. Service 2—Express delivery after transmission by post— Letters forwarded by this service are sent out for delivery by special messenger upon arrival at the Post Office of destination. Articles to be forwarded by ordinary post and afterwards delivered by special messenger from the Post Office of destination (Service 2) should be marked "Express," and have affixed postage stamps to the amount of at least the minimum Express Fee (6d.) in addition to the ordinary postage. It is desirable that Express Packets should be brought to the Post Office counter and not posted in a letter-box. On arrival at the Post Office of destination the packet will be sent out for delivery accompanied by a form upon which is stated the name of the addressee, the time of the messenger's despatch, and, in the event of the distance being greater than that covered by the fee affixed to the letter, the amount of the additional charge payable on delivery. Postal.	Service 3—Express delivery on arrival of mail— By this service any person can arrange for the delivery of his correspondence arriving by a particular mail, or a delivery on fixed days of the week. Persons desiring that their correspondence arriving by any particular mails should be sent out for delivery (Service 3) should, previous to the arrival of the mail, make written application to the Postmaster, enclosing stamps for the payment of the fee calculated at the rate of 6d. for the first 6 miles and 1d. for each additional mile or portion of a mile. If there are no letters a messenger will (unless otherwise arranged) be despatched with an intimation to that effect, the fee paid being retained to pay for this service. PRIVATE BAGS— 1. CONDITIONS OF RENTAL.—The Department undertakes to make up private post bags on the following terms: (a). Each bag must be provided by and at the cost of the person desiring the facility, and is subject to the approval of the Postmaster-General. (1) For routes served by native runner, a canvas bag weighing not more than 2½ lb must be supplied. The bag should approximate to the size 22 in. by 14 in. and be fitted with a canvas sling, neckstrap and hasp, and lock with at least two keys. A leather tab bearing the name and address of the renter should be riveted to the bag. (b). A rental of 10/- per annum (1st January to 31st December) must be paid in advance, and if the renter requires the bag to be made up at more than one Post Office, a separate rental will be chargeable for each office. In respect of new services rental is charged for the unexpired portion of the year, any portion of a quarter being considered a full quarter. All rentals are renewable on the 1st of January each year. It is to be clearly understood that the rental charged is purely for the making up of the bag, and not for the conveyance. The charges for a Private Bag conveyed by the Post Office are as follows: 1. For each conveyance by the Post Office in one direction (either out or in) 15/- a year. 2. For conveyance by Postman, on mail routes, for a distance of: Not exceeding 10 miles £2 a year. and exceeding 10 „ £3 „ (c). If the renter resides on a postal route, the bag or bags will be conveyed by mail carrier providing circumstances permit. If the renter resides off a mail route, he must make his own arrangements for the conveyance of the bag to or from such route or the nearest Post Office. The bag must be made up at the nearest convenient office. (In order to avoid delay to the mail carrier, it is usual to make up private bags at the office situated at the starting point, or at an office en route at which a stoppage is made for sorting purposes, but a bag will not be made up at one Post Office for delivery at another.) (d). The bag may be used for letters for persons in the neighbourhood of the renter's residence, at an extra charge of 10/- a year for each person, provided that the permission of the renter is given to the Postmaster in writing. Where such permission is given, the renter will be held responsible for all unpaid postage on letters for such persons. Articles which cannot be delivered within a reasonable period should be returned to the Post Office endorsed with the reason for non-delivery. Mis-sent articles should be sent back by the first opportunity.	First 6 miles: 6d. Each additional mile or portion thereof 1d.	The Post Office Ordinance, 1916 Gazette Notice No. 184 of 1921

Postal.	PRIVATE BAGS—(continued). (e). Registered packages are usually not delivered until receipts therefor are obtained. An exception is made in the case of private post bags, the packets being enclosed therein with the relative receipt slips, provided the renter indemnifies the Postmaster in writing from all liability and guarantees to return the receipts by first post. The forwarding of parcels can similarly be arranged, but the Postmaster will use his discretion, based principally on the circumstances of conveyance, as to whether he will send out bulky or fragile parcels attached to the bag, or require them to be called for at his office. (f). The renter must provide for the bag being met on its arrival at the appointed place and for the return bag being handed to the proper officer on its return journey. Under no circumstance can the means of conveyance be kept waiting at any point en route should the bag not be ready for despatch, nor will a detour from a recognized route be made to deliver a private post bag. (g). Transfer of a private post bag can be effected only on a written request of the registered holder, and with the authority of the Postmaster-General. (h). At offices where private boxes are installed a private post bag cannot be rented by any resident without a private box being rented in addition. (i). All applications for private post bags should be made to the Postmaster of the office from which the service is desired: and that officer will obtain the authority of the Postmaster-General before instituting the service. (j). In the event of the above conditions not being complied with, or if in the opinion of the Postmaster-General improper use is being made of the bag, the Postmaster-General may discontinue the service forthwith. PRIVATE BOXES.— 1. CONDITIONS OF RENTAL.—Private Post Office Boxes may be rented at certain Post Offices, and the renter of a Private Post Office Box will accept the lease under the following conditions, and will forfeit all rights by non-compliance or failure to carry out any or all of the rules hereinafter set forth. He will be held responsible for the observance of the regulations, and no other person will be recognized in connection therewith. (a). The rental fee for the box, is £1 1s. small box, £2 2s. for large box per annum, which is payable in advance, and is calculated to 31st December in each year, any portion of a calendar quarter being considered as a full quarter. (b). The hours for access to Private Post Office Boxes may be varied at any time by the Postmaster-General. (c). A box may not be rented in a fictitious name, or for an improper purpose. (d). The transfer of Private Post Office Box rights from one Post Office to another is not permitted; and the transfer of a box from one person to another is subject to the approval of the Postmaster-General and will only be considered in cases of bona fide change of business or other sufficient reasons. (e). No two persons, unless they are in business partnership, can jointly rent one private box, and persons or firms trading under two or more designations may be required to rent a box for each designation. Under this regulation any group of companies having a joint management may be required to rent a separate box for each company. (f). Delivery into a Private Post Office Box is in all respects equivalent to personal delivery to the addressee. (g). Mail matter will be placed in a box only when addressed to the renter of the box, or to his care, or specially addressed to the number of the box. (h). Should a case come under notice where this is not done or flagrant neglect is shown by the renter or person in possession of the key in detaining or delaying such mail matter, the box may be declared forfeited and the return of the keys demanded.

	(l). Mail matter will be re-addressed from one box to another only in exceptional circumstances, and upon application to the Postmaster-General. Postmasters are not obliged to re-address mail matter unless the box be closed.
	(m). A Private Post Office Box is provided exclusively for the reception of mail matter which has passed through the Post. Any private articles deposited therein by a renter will be surcharged as if posted out of course.
	(n). When a box is let two keys are supplied both of which are required to be returned to the Postmaster when the box is given up. Additional keys are only supplied upon payment of 2/- each. If a key is lost information must at once be given to the Postmaster in order that a new lock may be fitted, for which a charge of 5/6 will be payable.
	(o). No lock may be placed on any box other than a lock supplied by the Department, and no repairs to a box may be executed except by the Department.
	(p). The renter of a box must defray all expenses for damage to such box or to locks or keys thereof, if caused by him or due to his negligence.
	(q). The Postmaster-General may refuse to let or re-let a box to any person without assigning any reason for such refusal.

NOTE.—Maize is the staple foodstuff in most districts; groundnuts, rice, wheat, beans, and various other crops are also grown by natives for local consumption, but it is impossible to make an accurate estimate of the quantities of any of these crops.

The above tobacco figures represent the quantities purchased in each district, and do not accurately reflect the production by districts, as many natives grow their tobacco in one district and sell in another.

General information regarding the industry and the possibilities of development.

The forests of the Protectorate consist almost entirely of the dry "open woodland" and "savanna" types, in which the canopy is rarely sufficiently dense to preclude the growth of tall grasses. During the drought period fires invariably sweep through the forests, burning the grasses and destroying smaller shrubs and trees. The trees composing the forests rarely attain a basal diameter of much over twelve inches or a greater height than 40 feet, and they may be said to be generally of little commercial value except for local use as poles and fuel.

Trees of suitable dimensions and quality for conversion into sawn-timber are invariably scarce, and in many localities are practically confined to the banks of streams or to damp ravines on hill slopes. On Mlanje mountain, chiefly confined to gullies and ravines, are small patches of forest containing the valuable coniferous tree Widdringtonia Whytei (Mlanje cypress) which attains large dimensions and provides a strong, durable "softwood" timber. These forests are under the management of the Forest Department for supplying building timber to the Public Works Department; they are insufficient in extent to allow of concessions being granted to the public for exploitation, although small quantities of sawn cypress timber are available for sale from time to time.

There is no timber available for export, and although imports of timber are at present small they are increasing annually.

Thirty-three forest reserves have been made having an aggregate area of 2,547 square miles. These areas are mostly important catchment areas and have been reserved mainly with the object of maintaining and improving water-supplies, although some of them contain forest of a slightly better quality than the general poor type. In addition to this reservation, a commencement has been made in the demarcation of small, widely-scattered areas of forest for dedication to the communal use of the villages in their vicinity, with the object of trying to maintain a sustained yield of building poles and fuel for the needs of the people. It is intended that the people themselves protect and manage these "village forest areas" under simple rules provided by the District Administration (Native) Ordinance supplemented by a certain amount of supervision and advice from the Forest Department.

The Forest laws are provided by the Forest Ordinance, 1926, and its supplementary Forest Rules (1926). As well as providing for the protection of Forest Reserves, certain species of trees on other Crown land and all trees growing within 30 yards of a river or stream, are also protected by law. Apart from these restrictions natives are allowed to cut trees and forest produce for their own use without licence or payment, but non-natives are required to pay royalties on all scheduled forest produce.

Forest plantations continue to be established both by the Government and by European settlers throughout the Protectorate; the latter planting mainly for the production of fuel necessary for tobacco curing. Government afforestation, which is being undertaken at several centres, comes under two categories, viz. (1) establishing plantations for the production of softwood building timber (coniferous species being used which have already shown considerable promise) and (2) experimental planting for ascertaining the best species to plant (for the production of timber, poles, fuel, etc.) at various altitudes and under varying conditions. The present total area of government plantations is over 1,500 acres. Natives are being encouraged to form communal plantations in localities where insufficient natural forest remains for the allocation of effective "village forest areas." For this purpose plants are distributed free of charge from government nurseries in many districts. Tree seeds are sold to the public by the Forestry Department and advice on afforestation is given whenever asked for.

* This figure only comprises the accessible patches of cypress forest on Mlanje Mountain and all government and privately-owned forest plantations.

As stated above some of the better savannah forests contain a small amount of commercial timber (usually much scattered), and such timber is often found lining stream banks, but it is impossible to give an acreage for this.

† Comprises the various types of savannah forest; often extensively interspersed with native settlement and largely composed of small trees having little commercial value except as poles and fuel for local use.

Wood fuel is largely used on the railways, lake steamers, etc., and by the European and native populations generally. A small quantity of coal is now being imported for commercial use.

Vast quantities of poles and bamboos are used by the native population in the building of their huts, which invariably have to be renewed every three or four years, or even more frequently. Most native domestic articles are made from local timber, and near the shores of Lakes Nyasa and Shirwa, and along the banks of a few of the larger rivers, canoes are made in the form of hollowed-out tree trunks. Most of the numerous native medicines are derived from forest products.

The only minor forest products collected for export are beeswax and strophanthus seed. Mats for local trade are weaved from palm leaves by natives living in localities where palms are plentiful and the fibrous bark of certain trees is used generally as a string for binding purposes.
